Aidan Elley

Aidan Elley is new to the field of Behavioural Therapy and is based in Gosford, the Central Coast, NSW.

He recently graduated from Macquarie University with a Bachelors of Arts Psychology. His work is currently focussed on children with Autism Spectrum Disorder, and his work combines the principles of Applied Behavioural Analysis and play therapy.

Aidan has a keen interest in creativity and mindfulness and hopes to utilize these approaches in his career in psychology.

Emilie Loiseau Curley

Emilie is a child and family counsellor based in Coffs Harbour, NSW. She works in the community services sector as well as in her private practice, Creative Therapy For Kids.

Emilie is trained in and combines play therapy, attachment-focussed interventions, and narrative therapy in her work. Her approach is trauma-informed, non-pathologising and strength-based in nature.

Her area of interest is working with and advocating for children who are or have been impacted by childhood trauma.

Kim Billington

Kim is a registered supervisor and counsellor and a member of the ACA College of Supervisors. She is passionate about training and supervision and committed to passing forward her ever-evolving counselling skills and knowledge. Kim aims to support and inspire counselling practitioners to develop their own unique creative skills and explore new ways to connect with their clients.

As a dynamic course facilitator She has been facilitating groups and workshops for over 25 years.

Kim began her working life as a teacher in state and Steiner schools where she utilised the healing elements of storytelling to assist children in challenging situations. Committed to supporting the growth and development of others, Kim completed further studies including two masters' degrees in counselling and in narrative therapy.
